AMUSEMENTS.

Last night at the Opera House e a creditable presentation of Sidney Grundy's "Sowing the Wind." The plot of the play is capable of many intensely dramatic situations in the hands of capable artists, and last night's presentation was all that could e desired. Miss Maud Edna Hall, as "Rosamond," gave an interpretation that was free from rant, but sympa thetic. Marian Chylders, as "Maufrethell, Marian Chyders, as "Maud Fretwell" and Mr. William Eville, as "Sir Richard Cursitor," were all that could be desired, Marshall Stedman, as "Ned Annesiey," the romantic char-acter of the play, shared the bonors with Miss Hall and Mr. Sears.

A Former Wheeling Man Laid to Rest at lowing on the funeral of the late Thomas J. Holliday, formerly of Wheeling, which occurred yesterday:

The remains of the late Thomas J. Holliday were brought to this city last evening at 5 o'clock, in charge of a committee from Mt. Vernon Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, of Columbus, and were received by a delegation from Steubenyille Commandery, who excerted them to the residence of Mr. A. S. Parks, on Sixth avenue. During the evening a large number of Mr. Holliday's old friends and acquaintances called at the Parks residence and took a last look at the features of their dead friend. The funeral party, consisting of Mrs. Holliday, widow of the decased; Mrs. George P. Geib, the only daughter; Miss Lizzie Allen, Hon. S. B. Campbell. Sir Knights L. W. Buckmaster, A. W. Buckmaster, Henry Knufmen, Jesse F. Hatcher and Joseph J. Josephs, occupied a special car on No. 6 from Columbus. The Knights Templar are stepping at the McConville hotel during their stay in this city. The funeral took place this morning at 11 o'clock from St. Paul's church, Rev. G. W. Hinkle officialing. The cortege was escorted from Mr. Parks' residence to the church and from thence to the cemetery by Steubenville Commandery and the Columbus Knights, headed by Patton's band, and made an imposing appearance. The carset was burled neath numerous beautiful floral plees, and was borne by the Columbus Knights, who acted as pall bearers. Among those attending the funeral from other points were the mother, sixters and brother of the deceased, Mrs. Moore, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Allen, of Columbus.

THE SULTAN TALKS

On the Situation in Tuckey-Will be Re-forms, but will be Slow.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The Debats contains an account of an interview had by a Frenchman with the sultan at Con-Frenchman with the sultan at Constantinople on Sunday, in which the latter declared that any civil or military officer convicted of falling to do his duty during the recent massacres in Constantinople would be purished. The sultan is reported to have added that the government would endeavor to introduce reforms gradually, and that he would abide by all the pledges contained in the treaty of Berlin, although certain clauses in that treaty favorable to Turkey had purposely been forgotten.

forgotten.

The people of Europe, the sultan pointed out, were too apt to forget the material difficulties hindering the effects of his good will. His Asiatic empire, he added, contained two provinces which were alone equal to the size of France, and several of the distant vilayets had searcely any roads or telegraphs. The different idioms and aspirations of each race in the empire had to be considered.
